

Procedures that Lead to Change

Keep track of the conversation. Write down what question you asked and their response. Then write an assessment of the response and why you chose your next question. Then, write the next question and their response, followed by your assessment of their response, etc.

Question:

Response:

Assessment of Response:

Next Question:

Response: